

If you would like to save a copy of any PDF document within this site, please follow these instructions:

- Internet Explorer 5.0 or above

Using your mouse, highlight the title of the document you wish to save. Right click and choose the option “Save Target As.” You will need to give it a different filename because the current name of all pdf files will be “docview.pdf.” Example of a new filename: “financespec.pdf.”

- Or you can load the document within your browser or Adobe acrobat and click on the “Save” icon within Acrobat. You will still need to give the file a different name if you wish not to save it as docview.pdf (default filename).

- Netscape 5.0 or above

Using your mouse, highlight the title of the document you wish to save. Right click and choose the option “Save Link Target As.” You will need to give it a different filename as the current name of all the pdf files will be docview.asp.pdf. Example of a new filename: financespec.pdf.

- Or you can load the document within your browser or Adobe acrobat and click on the “Save” icon within Acrobat. You will still need to give the file a different name if you wish not to save it as docview.asp.pdf (default filename).