DOA's Wisconsin Coastal Management Program to Host Free Workshops

The Department of Administration's (DOA) Wisconsin Coastal Management Program will be holding four free workshops around the state in July and August to discuss low water levels on Lakes Superior and Michigan. These workshops will include discussion about water level data, state and local impacts of low lake levels, and the programs to help coastal communities.

"Wisconsin is home to many beautiful lakes and waterways. These workshops will provide information to help protect or restore our valuable water and coastal resources for families and Wisconsinites to enjoy for generations to come," said DOA Secretary Mike Huebsch.

Workshop dates, times and locations are listed below:

Thursday, July 11

2:00 - 4:30 p.m.

Northern Great Lakes Visitor Center
29270 County Highway G
Ashland, WI 54806

Thursday, August 8

6:00 - 8:30 p.m.

Crossroads at Big Creek
